

ABSTRACT

Photochemical tissue bonding methods include the application of a photosensitizer to a tissue, e.g., cornea, followed by irradiation with electromagnetic energy to produce a tissue seal. The methods are useful for wound repair, or other tissue repair.

U.S. GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE: 1973 7-1200-1000